Content Studio

Gemini drafts only from an approved fact pack. Human review is required; a clearly labelled fact-only fallback preserves transparency during outages.

The screenshot displays the 'Suvadip's Content Studio' interface. At the top, there's a navigation bar with 'Dashboard', 'Suvadip Kolay's Football League Hub', and 'SECURE GEMINI DRAFT'. Below this, a 'SUPERVISED CONTENT WORKFLOW' section introduces the studio. The main area is divided into two steps: 'STEP 1: Approved fact pack' and 'STEP 2: Choose draft format'. Step 1 includes a 'Competition' dropdown set to 'Premier League' and several example fact cards, such as 'Arsenal are first with 25 points after 10 matches' and 'Manchester City are second with 23 points after 10 matches'. A note states: 'Only these facts are sent to Gemini. The source list is shown again with every generated draft.' Step 2 offers two draft format options: 'Match preview' (Short website or newsletter preview) and 'Social post' (Concise post for Suvadip's football journal). It also features an 'Optional reviewer direction' text area with an example: 'Example: Make it more energetic, but do not add facts.' A large green button labeled 'Generate fact-checked draft' is at the bottom. A 'Guardrail' note at the bottom right states: 'The prompt prohibits invented scores, transfers, injuries, betting advice and unsupported statistics.'
